

PSHE Curriculum Guides

PSHE (Personal, Social, Health and Economic Education) is taught on five discrete days during each academic year. The normal school timetable is suspended for the day and students are taught on separate topics on each day. This approach allows the students to really immerse themselves in the topics and also allows guest speakers and other activities requiring longer periods of time to be used.

In addition to these days, some PSHE content is also covered within our tutor programme and in Religious Studies lessons.

The table below identifies the learning outcomes for each of the five PSHE days, unless otherwise stated.

How can parents support their child in PSHE?

It is essential that parents support the development of the PSHE curriculum at Gillotts School. This can be done in a number of ways:

- Read the summary of each PSHE day sent via email by Mrs Gemma Silk (PSHE subject leader) to help aid conversations at home - prior and after a PSHE day.
- Ensure your child attends all PSHE days.
- Look at the website for up to date information on PSHE days.
- Encourage your child to discuss any concerns with their tutor or Mrs Silk.
- Discuss recent events in the news that link into the themes expressed on the PSHE days.
